

to feel that He knows what is best. His dealings with us, all have some meaning & if we would learn the lesson of life we must mark & study those dealings. May there not be a call to you, as you are entering a work among your people - in the midst of temptations & trials that are new, to work not with "eye service as men pleasers but in singleness of heart, fearing God" remembering that this life is short and that you are to render an account to Him for all your time.

I feel very anxious that you should be a spiritual minded christian - taking delight in prayer - & drawing strength from communion with Christ.
