My Dear Mr Shokoff.

I was sad when I heard that you had indeed left the College. for it was always pleasant to associate you and Mr Pissareff together there: but perhaps it will be for the best, for you to begin with the new order of things in Bulgaria, and as you had had superior advantages to some others you may be the means of assisting others in the development of all that is worthy and good. I shall often think of you, and have sympathy in your new surroundings. Should you ever feel discouraged, think of the good friends you have left behind, and go on, trusting in a "Higher Power than man". We had a most charming voyage here. Spent a few hours in Naples
