

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the fresh air.
 It felt like a warm blanket after a long winter. The sun was shining brightly, and the birds were chirping happily.
 I took a deep breath and smiled.
 This was my first time in a new country, and I was excited to see everything. The people were friendly and the food was delicious. I had heard that the weather was perfect, and it was true. I was in luck.
 The first few days were a bit confusing, but I soon got my bearings.
 I had heard that the people were friendly, and it was true. I was in luck. The weather was perfect, and it was true. I was in luck.
